Baby Race set for Italian Championship round at Battipaglia

Just days after their positive and valuable performance at Sarno, Baby Race will be back on-track in the Italian karting Championship this weekend at Battipaglia. In the third round of the national series, the Baby Race stable will try to reconfirm their leading status in OKJ as they sit 1-2 in class with Alexey Brizhan and Luca Bosco.

In the Mini class, the team led by Sandro Lorandi will field Brando Badoer, Alessandro Cenedese, Rashid Al Dhaheri, Giosuè Galbiati, Conrad Laursen and Maximilian Popov. Edoardo Morricone won't be present in ACI Kart as Baby Race is preparing for the European OK round scheduled for next week in Spain.
