the Champions of the Future Euro Series, staged on the circuit of Třinec (Czech Republic) which will also host in about two weeks the FIA Karting European Championship for OK-OKJ categories. As always, the technical division has been featured by the Tony Kart Racer 401 RR, equipped with the Vortex engines, the "engine division" of the OTK Kart Group.

In OK class, Sebastiano Pavan is again one of the main protagonists of the category, after the podium obtained the week before at the fourth and last round of the WSK Super Master Series in Cremona. The Italian driver sets the second best timing in his qualifying group on Thursday, and continues with a high-profile run in the qualifying heats: three victories, a third place and a fastest lap. Pavan is therefore third in the intermediate ranking, next to a further concrete Top 5 in the A Super Heat before the final. Our leader thus jumps from the second final of the decisive last race of the weekend, but in the first corners he gets into collision with another driver and is forced to stop.

Jan Przyrowski is also steadily at the top of the rankings, author of five Top 5 places (including two podiums), a fastest lap in the eliminatory heats and a fourth place in the B Super Heat. The Polish driver, in the final, despite the problems of a precarious grip on the track due to the rain, avoids every kind of obstacle and tussle during the first laps and benefits of a seventh place under the chequered flag.

After a third place in the first stage in Valencia, Arthur Poulain records a Top 3 as his best result in the qualifying heats, but he also has to raise the white flag during the final. Space on the track was for Zoe Florescu Potolea and Jakub Rajski, who took advantage of the event to better prepare themselves for the next round of the FIA Karting European Championship.

In OKJ, an unlucky qualifying places Scott Kin Lindblom in the middle of the group, but our driver, thanks to an excellent path, is able to gain 18 positions at the end of the qualifying heats and shows off in Saturday morning's B Super Heat with a precious sixth place. The Swedish driver has all the credentials to fight at the top of the rankings in the final, but is involved in a multiple accident caused by a competitor in front of him during the first lap.

Constant growth for Alp Hasan Aksoy throughout the weekend. The Turkish driver climbs 27 positions between the qualifying and eliminatory heats. The hard wet track conditions then enhance his skills in the final, where he performs a comeback of 26 positions which allows him to enter the decisive Top 10, in eighth position. Maria Germano Neto is also performing well, collecting a fourth place as best result in the qualifying heats and taking part in Saturday afternoon's final, in which he recovers 7 positions from his grid position. First time familiarizing with the Třinec circuit is also Davide Bottaro, in view of the second round of the FIA Karting European Championship.

Two-week-break for OK and OKJ categories' drivers, ready to get back on track for the FIA Karting European Championship in Třinec (May on track for the FIA Karting European Championship in Trinec (May 18th – 21st). On the same weekend, the youngest MINI drivers will tackle the opening round of the Italian ACI Karting Championship in Cremona.

Tony Kart prepara l' europeo di Trinec

Il nostro Racing Team partecipa al secondo appuntamento della Champions of the Future Euro Series in Repubblica Ceca, sullo stesso circuito che ospiterà tra meno di due settimane il FIA Karting European Championship OK-OKJ.

Archiviata la WSK Super Master Series - campionato vinto per il secondo anno consecutivo nella categoria OK - il Tony Kart Racing Team torna in azione in occasione del round 2 della Champions of the Future Euro Series, in scena sul circuito di Trinec (Repubblica Ceca) che ospiterà tra circa due settimane anche il FIA Karting European Championship OK-OKJ. Come sempre, il comparto tecnico è stato garantito dal Tony Kart Racer 401 RR, equipaggiato con i motori Vortex, "engine division" di OTK Kart Group.

In OK, Sebastiano Pavan è di nuovo uno dei principali protagonisti della categoria, dopo il podio ottenuto la settimana precedente in occasione del quarto e ultimo round della WSK Super Master Series a Cremona. L'italiano registra il secondo miglior tempo nel proprio gruppo di qualificazione al giovedì e prosegue con un percorso di alto profilo nelle qualifying heat: tre vittorie, un terzo posto e un giro veloce. Pavan risulta quindi terzo nella classifica intermedia, a cui si aggiunge una solida Top 5 nella super heat A antecedente la finale. Il nostro alfiere scatta così dalla seconda finale nella decisiva ultima gara del weekend, ma nelle prime curve entra in contatto con un altro partecipante ed è costretto al ritiro.

Stabilmente ai piani alti della graduatoria, anche Jan Przyrowski, autore di cinque Top 5 (tra cui due podi) e un giro veloce nelle manche eliminatorie e di un quarto posto nella super heat B. Il polacco, in finale, nonostante le difficoltà dovute all'aderenza precaria in pista per la pioggia, evita ogni tipo di ostacolo e bagarre nel corso dei primi giri e capitalizza un settimo posto sotto la bandiera a scacchi.

Dopo il terzo posto ottenuto nella prima tappa di Valencia, Arthur Poulain registra una Top 3 come miglior risultato nelle qualifying heat, ma anche lui deve alzare bandiera bianca nel corso della finale. Spazio in pista anche per Zoe Florescu Potolea e Jakub Rajski, che hanno sfruttato l'evento per prepararsi al meglio in vista del prossimo impegno
