The initial heats of the WSK Super Master Series in Franciacorta

The first day of the fourth round awarded the first emotions on the track with qualifying practice and the initial heats. Heats will end on Saturday, while the final stages will follow on Sunday, March 9th.

Castrezzato, Franciacorta (ITA), 07.03.2025

After the qualifying practice sessions at the start of the weekend valid as the fourth round of the WSK Super Master Series, the time has come for direct challenges in the program leading up to the final phase on Sunday, March 9th at the Franciacorta Karting Track. After the 17 heats on Friday, the further 28 heats on Saturday will indicate the main candidates for the success. In the meantime, the first results have proposed several protagonists of the championship but also other interesting antagonists.

MINI U10 - Bergman wins after setting the third fastest time in practice.

The classification leader of the MINI Under 10, the American Josh Bergman (#563 Kidix Driver Performance/KR-lame-Vega), immediately regained the most attention with the victory in the heat after having obtained the third fastest time in practice. The poleman Daniel Pasquali (CRG Racing Team/T-Group-TM Kart) finished in the wake of his opponent after losing the leadership in the last laps of the heat. Third on the finish line was the American Colton Schniegenberg (Ward Racing/Tony Kart-TM Kart), ahead of Robin Raikkonen (Kartshop/KR-lame), fourth after a good comeback. Fifth was the Frenchman Edouard Ruget (BabyRace/Parolin-lame).

MINI GR.3 - Nanni and Perico successful in the two heats.

After pole position, Alessandro Nanni (#504 BabyRace/Parolin-lame-Vega) confirmed himself as the main protagonist of the MINI Gr.3 also in the heat he competed in. The Italian driver obtained the victory ahead of his teammate, the Frenchman Stan Ratajski. The Portuguese championship leader Xavier Lazaro (DR/DR-TM Kart) finished fifth. In the other heat the victory went to the other Italian Nicolò Perico (Team Driver/KR-lame), with the Georgian Leon Chelidze (CRG Racing Team/T-Group-TM Kart) moving up to second place from ninth starting position.

OKNJ - Blandino and Osadcyi-Suslovsky take the win.

Cristian Blandino (#726 GSR/LN Kart-lame-Vega) also takes his first heat after prevailing in practice. The Italian driver proceeded the Canadian Rocco Simone (Kidix/KR-Modena Engines), the Frenchman Many Nuvolini (Prema Racing/KR-lame) and the Italian Michele Orlando (DR/DR-Modena Engines). In the other heat, the Ukrainian Vsevlod Osadcyi-Suslovsky (Monster K Factory Team/Monster K-TM Kart) won over the Frenchman Teo Policand (Victory Lane/KR-lame) and Gioele Girardello (Modena Kart/Parolin-TM Kart). The classification leader, the American Lucas Palacio (KR Motorsport/KR-lame) was behind instead due to a penalty.

KZ2 - Orlov, Hiltbrand and Vasile among the best.

Max Orlov (CPB Sport/Sodikart-TM Kart-Vega) won his two heats, but the Spaniard Pedro Hiltbrand (#126 BirelART Racing/BirelART-TM Kart) also confirmed himself among the best, winning his heat after pole position in practice. A heat victory also went to the Romanian Daniel Vasile (CL Racing Team/BirelART-TM Kart), who then ended second in another heat.

GLOBAL RACING SYSTEM

The classification leader, the Dutchman Senna Van Walstijn (CPB Sport/Sodikart-TM Kart), obtained a second place but finished 11th in the other heat. The other protagonist of the championship, the Italian Cristian Bertuca (BirelART Racing/BirelART-TM Kart) finished second in his heat.

OKJ - Hoogendoorn and Baglin prevail in the standings.

There were four different winners in the four heats of the OKJ, but prevailing in the still provisional standings were the classification leader the Dutchman Dean Hoogendoorn (Prema Racing/KR-lame-Vegfa), and his teammate the Englishman Noah Baglin. Other victories went to the Canadian Ilie Crisan Tristan (Tony Kart Racing Team/Tony Kartt-Vortex-Vega), who also secured a third place, and to the Spaniard Bosco Arias (Ricky Flynn Motorsport/LN Kart-TM Kart). The American Devin Walz (#311 KR Motorsport/KR-lame), author of pole position in practice, finished seventh in his heat.

OK - Kamyab, but also Lyzen, Costoya and Micallef.

At the top of the provisional standings is the Englishman Roman Kamyab (#227 Ricky Flynn Motorsport/LN Kart-TM Kart-LeCont), who after achieving pole position in practice obtained success in his heat, ahead of Iacopo Martinese (KR Motorsport/KR-lame). Other winners were the Polish Borys Lyzen (KRZ Motorsport/KR-TM Kart) over the Italian Davide Bottaro (CRG Racing Team/CRG-TM Kart), the Spaniard Christian Costoya (Parolin Motorsport/Parolin-TM Kart) and the Maltese Jacob Micallef (KR Motorsport/KR-lame). The classification leader, the Belgian Dries Van Langendonck (Prema Racing/KR-lame), is lagging slightly behind after a third and an eighth place.
